BACKGROUND

Small and medium businesses in the tourism and events sectors are facing significant challenges in procuring sustainable insurance premiums. In some cases, businesses are facing closure due to insurance issues. Industry representative bodies are working hard to bring about change through extensive lobbying of government and through the media however, SMEs affected by these issues need to take action in their own businesses now.

Is your business affected by this?

We are ice rink operators with over 200,000 skaters every winter since 2007. We deal with claims every year. Despite this we manage to maintain sustainable insurance cover for our business.

We have done this by developing processes and systems in consultation with industry experts to manage risks, incidents and claims.

We are passionate about sharing our experience in the hope that it may lead to other businesses achieving similar results to our own.

We would like to invite you to a half day interactive workshop to hear a panel of professionals who have informed our processes and systems.

SPEAKERS

Bill Cremin- Managing Director, Cool Running Events Limited

Bill runs Ireland largest pop up events management company. Cool Running Events operates numerous pop up ice rinks around Ireland each winter. With over 200,000 customers every year, Bill will provide insight about how his company manages risk and continues to thrive in a challenging insurance environment.

Kieran Devonish- Principal, Dandelion Risk Management & Insurance Consultancy

Kieran is a highly qualified and experienced risk management professional. For almost two decades, he has successfully helped many companies, throughout the country, to improve their workplace safety standards and to cut their insurance costs.

Brendan O'Connell Partner, Ronan Daly Jermyn

Brendan acts for some of Ireland's leading retailers and he will provide insight on strategies to employ in determining when a case is worthwhile defending/settling.

Ciarán O'Mahony B.L.

Ciarán is a barrister who specialises in personal injuries litigation. He will discuss evidential issues which arise in the defence of personal injuries litigation and offer advice to help ensure that the evidence you wish to proffer will be admissible in court.

Glen Goggin- Head of Casualty, Sedgwick Ireland

Glenn currently heads Sedgwick's Liability Unit and is one of the very few working in the Irish Market currently holding the Fellowship of the Chartered Insurance Institute (FCII). Glenn has in depth experience in handling motor, liability (property and casualty) and property damage claims with specific expertise in psychiatric, defamation and false arrest claims. Glenn also holds an honours law degree from UCC (NUI).

Finbarr Jeffers- O'Leary Insurances Ltd

Finbarr has over 20 years' experience in the insurance industry, providing a comprehensive insurance broking service to companies across all sectors of the Irish Economy. O'Leary Insurances are the appointed insurance brokers to the Small Firms Association, I.H.F and Irish Restaurateurs Association.

The takeaways for attendees will be among the following;

- Insights on how Cool Running Events manages claims to ensure sustainable renewal premiums in its ice skating business
- Practical advice from a highly experienced Risk Management Consultant on how to identify and manage risk in your business.
- Insight from a member of the legal profession as to when and when not to go to court.
- How to position your business to secure sustainable insurance premiums.
